Victoria Day Celebration

GLEICHEN SPORTS FOR MAY 24

Citizens Ball Promises to be Great Success Tonight

In view of the assurances that the Citizens Ball to be given this evening—Thursday—will be largely attended it was decided last week that some effort should be made to entertain on Victoria Day, and accordingly a meeting was called, when it was arranged to provide a day of good sports, and posters were issued forthwith and scattered broadcast inviting everyone to attend. A subscription list was circulated, with the result that the committee in charge are offering good prizes for the following events:

- Half-Mile Dash
- Cowboy Race
- Quarter-Mile Dash, Ladies Race
- Indian Race
- Ponding Competition
- 100-Yard Foot Race
- One Mile Dash
- Driving Competition Single (Owners Up)
- 120-Yard Hurdle Race
- Jumping Contest for Horses
- Squaw Race Travoix
- Huckling Contest

In the morning the Gun Club has arranged for a pigeon shoot, and besides the above sports in the afternoon a football match is being arranged. The committee have already assurances that each event will be keenly contested, and although they have but a short time for their work they are making good use of it, and all who come to town that day may count on a good time.

THE LUMBER COMBINE

E. E. Taylor on his return to Calgary from giving evidence before the committee of the House of Commons in regard to lumber combines is reported to have said: "The enquiry was a pretty exciting episode and generally speaking showed some of the millmen to be professional perjurers, more than in any other case on record."

It is to be hoped that some of these millmen will have sufficient self esteem to invite Mr. Taylor to prove his charges in court, for these many interesting facts would be brought out which doubtless would be beneficial to Alberta generally. The editor of the Calgary Chinook has written an open letter to the Minister of Justice at Ottawa quoting Mr. Taylor and asking that some action be taken in the matter by the Department of Justice, stating that "if these men were guilty of perjury they should be dealt with under the Criminal Code of Canada and if they are not guilty their innocence should be shown."

Following the report of the investigating committee stating that a lumber combine existed the lumber men have raised the price of lumber from $3 to $5 per thousand feet, which may or may not be taken as a direct insult to the findings of that committee.

However, this may be, the fact is that the people of the prairie provinces are paying unreasonable prices for lumber, which is a detriment and a serious drawback to these provinces, inasmuch as the new comers feel that they are not being properly treated and that the cost of building is much higher than they anticipated before coming here. As a result many of the men who took up land last year and are now arriving to settle on it and build homes, barns etc., find it necessary to change their plans and build smaller buildings than they had intended and some will delay building for the present.

Up to a few months ago...

followed the lumbermen's side of this case carefully for several years in British Columbia and is aware that until two years ago the lumbermen were not very prosperous and many failures in their line were reported. But during the past two years they have been prospering and large fortunes have been accumulated by lumber men throughout B. C. —some of whom might here be named.

Therefore, the present rise in lumber is not because the lumbermen are working unprofitably, but because the demand for lumber is so great that they can get their price no matter what they may choose to make it.

It might here also be stated that employees of the lumber men in B. C. are not receiving any higher wages than formerly, that in fact the businessmen and many of the saw mill employees are receiving extremely low wages, as some of our former boys can testify.

If the government has any power to deal with combines it certainly seems it has an excellent opportunity to use that power in making an example of the lumber combine, and receive the thanks of the entire population of the prairie provinces.

A FEW POINTERS

As a warning to many who will emigrate to this land of sunshine during the present year we have at considerable expense framed the following pointers for those who have not subscribed for this paper:

Before you turn your face towards the East West take a good, long last look at your folks. You may never see them again.

You will find that it is not all gold that glitters. Oftentimes it is wheat.

Do not think when you strike Gleichen that all the people are asleep. It is an erroneous idea—they are busy.

Tie your hat on when you get off the train, for our ozone moves rapidly some times.

Don't imagine you can walk to the summit of the Rocky Mountains before luncheon. They are 125 miles distant.

Don't imagine that...

Inhabitants have read this paper for two months.

Do not attempt to paint Calgary red. Nothing in it, owing to excessive competition.

Do not wear yellow leggings around Gleichen or your fate may become untimely; but at Calgary everything goes.

Pack your own blankets when you visit Calgary, and be careful to keep away from the cage with the wildcats in it.

Don't fall dead when you see the beautiful scenery around Gleichen. It is here to stay.

When you reach Calgary you must sometimes think you are in England.

Do not tell the people you come from Bruce or some other tenderfoot district. We have eyes.

Bring plenty of money with you and be determined to do or go broke.

Do not wear a plug hat it is a sign of bad judgement on the prairie.

Deposit your money with us and do not step on our dog when you enter this palace.

Don't be afraid of hard work, for you can find plenty of it.

All men may be born equal, but they don't stay that way long in the West.

Remember you have to hustle to keep up with the procession here. We have many Yankees and more are arriving daily.

Don't say you can ride until you have tried the hurricane deck of a cayuse.

We have a lot of advice on tap but have not time to let the world know it this week.

TOWN AND DISTRICT

Travellers between here and Bassano complain that a fence should be put across the trail at the gravel pit, as the pit now extends right across the trail and anyone driving along after dark would be almost certain to drive into it. At dusk one evening last week a couple of our townsmen drove within a few paces of the pit before they discovered it, and had they gone nearer their chances of being killed would have been almost certain as the pit is nearly 20 feet deep. This should be attended to without delay.

J. A. N. Bottomly, the local C. P. R. agent states that during the month of April thirteen cars of settlers effected arrival at the Gleichen station. This means that thirteen new families located on new ground during that month. But it does not account for a number of others who arrived here with little or no effects and have settled on land near here. This is only the beginning of the settlers who will arrive this season, one may judge by the amount of land already sold.

A. Spreadbury from Dawson, Yukon, a Gleichen old-timer, was with us last week renewing old acquaintances. Before returning to the north he purchased from the Canadian Real Estate and Commercial Agency a quarter section of land near Gleichen, also considerable town property, his intention being to return at a future date and make his home amongst us.

Dr. W. E. Howe, a veterinary surgeon from Denver, Colorado, was in town Friday representing the Seabury Livestock Spraying Machine and Manufacturing Co. He is operating two of his machines in Alberta this season, and will bring one to Gleichen shortly.

John Clark of Crowfoot has invested $1300 in Gleichen property during the past week. When old-time residents consider our town good enough to invest in there should be no question about Gleichen's future.

Want Gleichen grow by reading "The Call" regularly.

Mr. Fairchild, Dominion Land Surveyor, has been in Gleichen the greater part of the past week buying supplies and hiring men to take north of the Red Deer river, where he will spend the summer subdividing the government land. Thus another fine section of land tributary to Gleichen will be open for location to farmers and ranchers.

R. McLean of Cheshire was renewing acquaintances in town Sunday. It is a couple of years since his last visit here and he remarked on the rapid growth of Gleichen. Mr. McLean formerly operated a sawmill on the Bow river, south of town.

The members of Court Blackfoot No. 7875, of the Ancient Order of Foresters will attend divine worship next Sunday evening. At 7:30 o'clock they will march in a body from their hall to the St. Andrew's Church.

J. B. Dutoir was awarded the contract of building the new sidewalks by Overseer Cosgrove and already has about completed the 8 foot walk on Crowfoot street, which adds materially to the appearance of the street.

No meeting of any kind last Thursday night. This news is quite startling as the freak may not be heard of again for many moons.

QUEENSTOWN NEWS

C. C. McPhee and daughter were up to Gleichen last week.

Wm. Hill of the Buffaloes was over to the store on Monday.

John Lambek of Chicago arrived last week with his effects.

G. Gunterston of Palermo, N. D., is back in our midst again.

Another beautiful supply of rain Sunday and Monday of this week.

W. Hermann has arrived in Gleichen with a car of settlers effects and is now busy hauling.

Messrs. O. P. Solberg and E. Northing made a trip south to the Little Bow on Saturday last.

R. Smith returned from Claresholm last week accompanied by his brother, who will return this week.

Messrs. M. O'Connor and J. Burke of study, Alta., are busy moving onto their respective homesteads.

W. H. Robertson and wife, accompanied by his father, D. Robertson, were up looking the town over this week.

E. E. Robertson made a trip over the buffaloes after oats last week. He thinks the fall wheat there will be alright yet.

We had a nice rain last week which helped things along, although there is nothing suffering yet, and wheat and oats are coming along nicely.

Two thousand head of cattle passed through here last week, belonging to George Lane on their way to his ranch, south of Bassano. They were all in good condition.

J. P. Starkweather of Forest Grove, Oregon, and T. W. Babcock of McMinnville, Oregon, were visitors at Queenstown looking over the country. They are well pleased with the looks of things here.

Will the party or parties taking on the Queenstown mail deliver same as soon as possible at W. Brown's store as it is a big inconvenience to take same out in the country and hold it for two or three days. This is another one of our inconveniences for lack of a post office. We were assured of one at an early date, but it is six months since we had that assurance, and we are beginning to think they have forgotten us. Yet we sincerely hope they have not and that the post office officials will look into the matter without delay.

W. PARK EVANS, - - - - - Publisher and Proprietor.

Gleichen, Alberta, May 23, 1907.

A Montreal despatch states that F. W. Thompson, vice-president and managing directory of the Ogilvie Flour Mills, Ltd., stated that the present season in the west is undoubtedly the latest in his experience of a quarter of a century, yet he added that these conditions were not alone so peculiar to our northwest this year, as practically every country has experienced an equally late spring. "This is particularly so," he added, "of the semi-tropical countries, and crop conditions generally in Europe are the poorest in many years. This naturally reflects itself in higher prices for wheat, oats and barley, as well as rye in the large producing centres of Europe. As far as our own northwest is concerned, I do not think that we should feel unduly anxious for, while there will be a large decrease in the wheat acreage, we believe that weather conditions will permit of such deficiency being largely made up by coarser grains, and the steadily advancing prices of all these grains will in a measure assist the producer very materially, besides being conducive to the general welfare of the country. The success of the agriculturists in our country is of course headed by the fundamental basis of our commercial prosperity, and the more the farmers obtain for their products, the better it will be for the whole Dominion. Prices of all these commodities are steadily advancing in all foreign markets, while the United States this year will be less of a competitor than formerly. On the whole" concluded Mr. Thompson, "I think we can look forward with a reasonable hope, because of the steadily advancing prices to a fairly successful season for the farming community."

The Board of Trade has requested The Call to publish a special illustrated number and a committee composed of Messrs. Marshall, Bray and Evans has been appointed to ask business men, farmers, ranchers and others to supply cuts of their business places, homes, stock, etc.. We are prepared to carry out our part if the cuts are forthcoming and the committee will be pleased to hear from anyone who will supply a cut. If sufficient cuts can be obtained the Board of Trade intend supplying several views of the town and quite a respectable issue will be printed. The cuts can afterwards be used on letter heads, envelopes, etc., by the owners for private advertising and will be a direct benefit to those who supply them. At least a thousand copies will be issued of the special number and every effort made to make it attractive and worthy of the town and district which it will represent. Now show your enterprise!

The Board of Trade has decided to ask the C.P.R. to change the big sign near the station, which now reads, "Irrigation Doubles Crops, See Irrigation Canal East of Calgary" to "See the C.P.R. Irrigated Lands Right Here." This is only right and proper and a good thing. Up at Calgary they don't like the word "Irrigated" but are very proud of their big brewery. Here in Gleichen aqua pura looks good to us even if we have a German name, and when the first dry season comes along Calgary may learn that "Irrigation Doubles Crops."

Do your own advertising. Make it a study. Study the wants of your trade. When you get something they want let them know it. Do what you say you will, and a fortune is yours. Advertising is a study, and if a man waits until he has purchased a stock of goods and gets it placed on the shelves, and then thinks about talking to the people, a school boy could predict his cavernous failure.

As the Calgary Daily News suggested a few days ago the largely increased yield in the wheat crop will more than compensate for the smaller acreage in the West this year. There will be easily a one hundred million crop, so it is said.

Calgary is sending the Fifth Light Horse band to the Dublin Exhibition this summer to toot the glories of that city and Southern Sunny Alberta. Wonder if we could not arrange to have one horn toot for Gleichen.

The Daily News says census every ten years is of no use to Calgary and wants one every ten days. A census every ten days would be of little use to Gleichen, we want a census every time a train comes in.

Ottawa's coal bill cost $50,000 more during the past winter than the previous one. To avoid this the Capital should be moved to Gleichen.

The Gleichen Call

A CALL to the landless of the world to settle on the unoccupied, fertile irrigated lands of "Sunny Alberta" surrounding Gleichen, the heart and centre of these lands.

A CALL to the professional man, the artisan and the laborer to make his home in that Gleichen, which is certain to be one of the most prosperous towns in "Sunny Alberta".

A CALL to the capitalist and the investor to invest in a town and district, which will without any doubt repay his investments a hundred fold in the future.

A CALL to those in search of health the greatest of all earthly blessings—to come to a Province becoming famous as a Land of Sunshine, neither enervatingly torrid nor frigidely arctic—a happy climatic medium.

A CALL to those now here to work for the interests of that Gleichen, they have made their home, to work for its present interests and its future welfare; to work unselfishly and unitedly for its advancement and prosperity. To work and never rest content till "Our Town" reaches a higher and a higher and a still higher position, not to cease their endeavors till at last she takes her place as one of the foremost cities in fertile, mineral endowed, healthy, beautiful, Sunny Alberta.

S. M. DICKINSON.

KINDNESS UNSPOKEN.

Do you know the world is full of kindness that was never spoken, and that is not much better than no kindness at all. The fuel in the stove makes the room warm, but there are great piles of fallen trees lying on rocks and tops of hills where nobody can get them; these do not make anybody warm. You might freeze to death for want of wood in plain sight of these fallen trees, if you had no means of getting the wood home and making a fire of it. Just so in a family; love is what makes the parents and children, the brothers and sisters happy. But if they take care never to say a word about it; if they keep it a profound secret as if it were a crime, they will not be much happier than if there was not any love among them; the house would seem cold, even in summer; and if you live there you will envy the dog when you call him "poor fellow."

People who dodge the crosses will reach in vain for their crowns.

Character is no more than an inwrought ideal with more or less perfection.

Over-topping the hills of conscious self-abasement lie the summer-land of life.

The most ignoble character in all the world is the mere money getting man.

Nothing has quite so delicate a poison as character. Whisperings may often dislodge it.

Only the truly great can stand alone. Such are they—majestic in their solitariness.

Forget the chill and damp of those low lands. Hurry across the valley to the hills beyond.

The man who would go with the majorities only borrows strength. He's a leech—nothing more.

Stand your ground—only the brave can do that.

Many vandals would steal from the dead if they did not find it far easier to play the pirate with the living.

Some folks have such a dread of society that their religion is no more than a system of restrained doubts.

When your name is printed on a label and appears on a copy of The Call it is a sign you are considered a subscriber to this paper, and not before. If you have paid your subscription and your name is not printed kindly notify us.

How can we change the world? By reason. Nothing is more powerful than reason. The chain formed of strong reasons and lofty thoughts cannot be broken. Reason, like the sling of David, brings to earth the violent and prostrates the mighty. It is the one invincible weapon. Lacking it, the world would belong to armed brutes. What is it that holds them in check? Thought alone, naked and unarmed.

Services will be held in St. Andrew's church every Sunday evening, and on the second Sunday of each month services will be held in the morning at 11 o'clock, with the administration of the Holy Communion.

Father Lapine will conduct Roman Catholic services as follows: The 1st Sunday in each month at Mr. Desjardins', on Crowfoot creek; 2nd Sunday at Mr. Beaupre's, in Gleichen; 3rd Sunday at Mr. T. Stewart's, at west Arrowood creek. Services are held every Sunday at the South Camp Mission, near Cluny.

Presbyterian Church service will be held in the School house next Sabbath evening at 7.30 p.m. to be conducted by the Rev. H. Fraser.

WOMEN'S SERVICE

It is gross injustice that woman's service, though it wears away her life, robs her of the ability to do that which is for her children's highest good and chills her love of the refined and beautiful, has no promise of a compensation equivalent to the life long sacrifice it demands. A man of a family expects to pay the men or women who assist in doing their work in case such assistance is required. Why should they expect the woman, whom of all the world they have professed to love best, to do their menial work for nothing? "Oh," one is the ready answer, "we are working on the mutual plan." What is for one is for both. Well, let us see how that is. She has washed to save a washer-woman's bill, cooked and cleaned to save a servant's hire, taken care of the children to save the nurse hire, made clothes to save the expense of a seamstress, besides doing many other things equally as hard; while he has none of these unremunerative tasks nor the expenses of them to bear. He is not willing that she should share in earnings. Quite the contrary, when a little money is asked for, not for herself, but for any necessities for the house or children, it is often very grudgingly given if at all. We have known cases where poor, overworked women are obliged, besides doing all the work for their families, to earn as best they could what ever little money is required for their personal expenses. A mother's health, both of body and mind is worth more than additional acres and fine live stock. The heart should not be allowed to grow old. Life should not have lost its charm, the heart its spirit, and the body its elasticity at forty years. And yet how many women are faded and wan and shattered in mind and health long before they are forty. All the joy of life is not in its morning, if tyrannical or thoughtless oppression were restrained by the hand of justice.

A MULE AND MILLIONS

A story is told of the discovery of the famous Coeur D'Alene mines: Half the lead that has been mined in the United States has come from the famous Coeur D'Alene, the most productive lead mines in the world. Like many of the richest mines, they were discovered by pure luck. A man lent his mule to two prospectors. In the course of their wanderings the mule was tied to a tree, and he, becoming impatient, pawed the ground and uncovered a lead vein which is now the site of the famous Bunker Hill Sullivan mine. The owner of the mule sued for a third interest in the claim, and the courts granted it to him, stating that as the mule had made the discovery, and that as he was its owner he was entitled to the mule's share. The three owners sold their discovery for $500,000 and nothing was too good for that mule for the rest of his days. He was exhibited in a private car and lived on the fat of the land and now a tombstone marks his grave. His harness hangs in a hotel saloon, where it is gazed upon with the deepest reverence by old time prospectors.

The day started with a smile is seldom ended with a frown.

We ourselves are to be measured by the distance we have gone into other details.

THE JOURNEY OF LIFE.

You will find this journey of life is not always what it seems, nor that it lies all the way through verdant valleys and flowery meadows. It is not always bright with the sunlight of pleasure. You will not find a bed of roses to recline upon every time; you are weary. Don't expect it, or you will very likely be disappointed. You will find that about the time the path gets past the schoolhouse it switches off into some rather rough country. You will very probably find some rough hills to climb and some deep gullies to cross. The briars will tear your nice clothes and the stones will wear out your fine shoes, and you will have blistered heels and stone bruises in plenty, before you get through.

There is only one way to avoid all this. That is to sit down, a whining beggar by the roadside, despised and self-despising. But if you are going through you must brave yourself for hard climbing. You will find plenty of roses by the way, but they grow among thorns, and if you would gather them you must not be afraid of a few scratches. All the fruits worth having are near the tops of the trees. You can have your game suppers and your quail on toast, too, but the game is wild and the bird-roost high, and you can't put salt on their tails to catch them. You can have a little this, we say, but just as likely as not when you get it you will have no teeth to chew it with, so you mustn't build too much on that.

Yes, young man, the glaciers of life are hard to climb, and you will never make the trip without a guide. The name of the guide is "Work." Tie yourself to him, young man, and he will pull you through all right. He is rough and rugged, as all mountaineers are, but don't despise him on that account. Don't despise his homely garments; he is a brave, true-hearted fellow, who has led, thousands safely through, and will do the same by you if you will trust him.

The majesty of man cannot be measured until he is seen standing in a magnificent minority.

"The Best in the West"

Do you know what it cost me to be able to write the above?

Fourteen years continuous study and practice.
Five Post Graduate courses in New York, Chicago, Buffalo, Toronto and Seattle.
Hours of study and experiment when my professional brothers were out with the other lucky ones enjoying themselves.

Thousand of dollars where hundreds are generally spent in dental education.

But, pshaw, knowing what I do I can honestly say:

"It was worth while after all!"
